ARTIST STATEMENT

There are many ways to experience shifting skies and changing cloud formations. Is it simply passing weather or an abstract representation of a state of mind? Rising transient clouds reflect nature's energy and our moods as observers in my oil paintings. The views are familiar, but the subtext is the underlying chi, the sweeping momentum of energy. The earth "breathes" in and out with compositions of uplifting shapes. Skies resonate with pulsing waves of clouds and lofty patterns producing a rhythm of color. These oils on canvas celebrate the vibrations of the planet.

Practicing Ai Chi (Tai Chi in a pool) induces a state of mindfulness. I enjoy kayaking, gardening and motorcycling during which I form visions for compositions.
